Mountain Timber Log Homes, a family owned and operated business, strives to furnish distinctive quality log homes at a competitive price, whether building a nationally recognized log home manufactured kit or building with logs furnished from local mills. Partners Blake Foster and John Davis have over thirty-five years experience in the wood products industry. The company's success has been based on personal attention to customer's ideas, desires and satisfaction. Company president Blake Foster, personally meets and works with each new home buyer from the planning stage to the building completion.

Georgia Mountain Timber Log Homes has a reputation of a log home builder that does not compromise. The company provides a team of professionals and craftsman dedicated to meeting the ideas and desires of each valued customer. Each team member, the draftsman, the electrician, the cabinet maker, the landscaper, have one goal.....to deliver the best in quality, integrity, and professional services. Whether the new home buyer desires a rustic retreat cabin, a small starter or retirement home or a spacious luxury home, Georgia Mountain Timber Log Homes will strive for excellence in performance and build a quality log home of distinction.

Georgia Mountain Timber Log Homes has built a reputation for honesty, integrity, craftsmanship, and attention to detail. Customer satisfaction is the number one priority of this team of professionals and craftsman.
